

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The Germans and Austrians are now upon the defensive everywhere. Even at Verdun the French have recaptured a good deal of their lost ground.

Speaking of Edgewater Park of cherished memory, the following item from the Owensboro Messenger is of real interest: "Riverview Park is one of the real beauty spots about Owensboro. There has not been an improvement of the city in many years that gave as much pleasure as the park on river front."

The Colonel's betrayal of his de-luded followers has been made com-plete. Charles E. Hughes, republican presidential nominee, announced Wednesday night at the end of an in-terview with Theodore Roosevelt, which lasted for more than two hours' and a half, that he and the former president were in "complete accord."

A dispatch from Lexington says 35 boys serving sentences in the State Reform School at Greendale, Fayette county, for petty offences and whose terms are nearly up, have been pa-roled in order that they may enlist in the Kentucky National Guard. These new recruits will be distributed among the four companies of the Third Battalion and Maj. Short will be responsible to the Prison Board for them. Drills, which the boys have been having daily at the in-stitution, give them fine looking mili-tary bearing and will materially help in training them for quick service. All this sounds well, but the idea of re-cruiting the Kentucky soldiers from the criminal classes is not in keeping with our ideas of exalted patriotism. We are glad that Co. D is not honey-combed with such material. A ma-jority of its members however are christian boys.

Hanging The Preachers.

A business man of Birmingham, Ala., drew up a petition asking the city council to appoint a committee to hang every minister of the gospel in town. He circulated the document among thirty of the city's leading citi-zens, including many influential bank-ers, merchants and manufacturers. And twenty of them signed it.

Now they are busy explaining that they didn't know what they were do-ing. Needless to say, they don't want to hang the preachers. They simply signed that paper without reading it through. And it is a striking proof of the assertion the circulation of the petition set out to prove—that the American business man will sign al-most anything.

The document, of course, was care-fully baited. It started out with the usual array of "whereases," asking the city council to adopt an ordinance excusing the ministers from paying a sanitary tax. The last paragraph con-tained a little joke in the form of an explanation that in order to gain im-munity from the tax the ministers would have to be hanged.—Owens-boro Messenger.

In Fighting Mood.

Philadelphia, June 30.—President Wilson describing himself as "in a fighting mood," enunciated yesterday to a large crowd in Independence Square his conception of some of the cardinal American ideals. He de-clared that America in dealing with other nations must "vindicate at what-ever cost" its principles of liberty, justice and humanity. "America first," must be translated into action exalting it above all selfish interests and that the nation's policy and devel-opment must be guided by the whole people and not by any small group.

TAX LEVY MADE.

The city commissioners at their meeting Tuesday, finally approved the tax ordinance for the year begin-ning June 1, 1916, and ending May 31, 1917. The property tax is $1.50 on property for general purposes and 50 cents for schools. Also 50 cents for bond, etc. The poll tax is $3 on 2,801 whites and $1.50 on 1,176 col-ored polls. The estimated revenue is $124,453.19 on $4,833,342.54 property and $222,857.54 franchise.

CARRANZA TAKING HIS GOOD TIME

To Answer After Crawling Down on the Release of Prisoners.

BRAZIL BUTTS IN AGAIN
But Lansing Makes It Clear
That There is Nothing to Mediate.

Washington, D. C., June 30.—The Washington government still awaited further compliance with its demands by the de facto authorities of Mexico. Release by Gen. Carranza's order of the American prisoners taken at Carrizal has averted the probability of immediate retaliatory steps. It is pos-sible that it has also helped to pave the way toward an attempt at peaceful settlement of the whole border situa-tion. High officials made it very clear however, that the vital point at issue—the future attitude of Mexican forces toward American forces in northern Mexico engaged in guarding the border and pursuing bandits who raided American territory—remains to be settled.

Intimations have come, it is under-stood, that Carranza intends to back up the order issued to Gen. Trevino directing that American troops be at-tacked if they move in any direction in Mexico except toward the border. Officials are fully prepared for a reply of that character, despite the fact that the prisoners taken at Carrizal have been promptly surrendered on de-mand.

Mr. Lansing made it clear today to Ignacio Calderon, minister from Bo-livia, that pending a formal reply from the Carranza government to his late note, no offer of mediation would be acceptable to the United States.

Final decision by Washington offi-cials as to the responsibility for the fighting cannot be reached until a complete report from Gen. Pershing is available. He is gathering from survivors all information they have as to what happened and will submit a full report to Secretary Baker, who will in turn transmit it to the state de-partment for consideration.

NEW WHEAT COMING IN

Local Market Opens Up at $1.00 Per Bushel for
No. 2.

Wheat threshing has been in pro-gress over the county for several days. The yield is reported light and the indications are that not more than half of a full crop will be made. The price on the local market is $1.00 for No. 2. Very little of the grain has been delivered here yet. The first delivery to the Hopkinsville Milling Co. was made Wednesday by Steger Bros., who reside on the Canton pike, and this lot secured the usual price of a barrel of flour.

Cash For The Soldiers.

A subscription paper started by Geo. E. Gary Wednesday afternoon and circulated by M. M. Shipp and H. A. Long raised $192.20 for the boys of Co. D. It was deposited to their credit and can be added to by friends not seen. It is intended to purchase little extras for the boys. Chip in.

CELEBRATE GLORIOUS 4TH

Patriotism Will Be Given a Big Opportunity at Virginia Park.

MANY SHORT SPEECHES

Musical Program Will be Especially Interesting and Pleasing.

From all indications next Tuesday, July 4th, will be more generally ob-served than for many years. There will be the usual celebrations in the various localities and in the city there will be a patriotic demonstration at night that is expected to be a big event.

Music will be made by an orchestra of Old Fiddlers who will play patri-otic airs.

Messrs Chas. F. Jarrett and Curtis A. Brasher, veterans of the two armies, have been asked to preside jointly and there will be a number of stirring speeches not over 10 or 15 minutes long from such well known speakers as C. R. Clark, R. A. Cook, W. T. Fowler and young Robert Brumfield, W. R. Howell, T. C. Underwood, Chas. M. Meacham and W. O. Soyars and perhaps others. All old soldiers of former wars will be invited to seats in the Pavilion.

Miss Virginia Pursley will give a patriotic reading and the musical pro-gram may include vocal numbers.

SHORTAGE OF MEN

Recruits Still Wanted And
Some May Start
Monday.

Fort Thomas, Ky., June 30.—"It is the lack of recruits more than any-thing else that is holding us back. What we want is men, more men, and more men, and when we get enough men, we will begin to make our ap-pearance on the border." This was the statement made by Brig. Gen. Roger Williams when asked why Ken-tucky state guards were still in mobil-ization camp when militiamen from other states were being rushed to the border. New orders received from Frankfort were interpreted as indicat-ing that as soon as the Kentucky con-tingent had been inoculated and ex-aminated they would in all probability leave for the border not later than Monday.

Delay Advantageous.

Any delay incident to new negotia-tions with Gen. Carranza will be of inestimable benefit to the United States should the course of events cause a clash between the United States and the de facto government, according to army officers. The ad-vantage would consist not only of per-mitting the release for active service of the 35,000 regulars guarding the border by substitution of national guardsmen, but in the concentration of supplies for a big campaign, the mobilization of transports facilities and the rehabilitation of the flying arm of the service.

It is estimated that the forage for horses and mules used by the army will cost the United States $650,000 a month while approximately $40,000 a month will be used for gasoline. The pay of officers and men on the bor-der now approximates $1,800,000 a month, but this will be greatly in-creased by the addition of the nation-al guardsmen.

Fowler Drew Last Place.

In the drawing for position on the Republican primary ballot to nomi-nate a Congressional candidate in the Second District, the result was as fol-lows: W. N. Martin, Earlinton; T. J. Penticost, Henderson; W. T. Fowler, Hopkinsville.

SIX ROADS READY TO LET

Commissioners Will Receive Bids For Road Improvements on July 18.

THREE NORTH AND SOUTH

Inspection of Two Greenville Routes Made But No Decision Yet.

The Road Commissioners made an order yesterday opening bids for im-proving six roads on July 18th. The roads are the Fairview, Madisonville, Princeton, Nashville, Clarksville and Lafayette pikes. Some of these roads are already picked to the county line. The Princeton road is under con-struction on the lower end, but part of it is to be rebuilt. There will be several miles of new road needed on the Madisonville road.

The plans and specifications have been returned from Frankfort prop-erly approved.

The commissioners inspected the two routes to the Muhlenberg line Wednesday and had a rough time. One of the four automobiles broke down and had to return.

Thursday was spent in trying to arrange for rock supplies.

Yesterday a final meeting was held to arrange for letting contracts for actual work.

DEATH TAKES BRIDEGROOM

Bride of Twelve Days Becomes a Widow at Pembroke.

Jack Dalton Bronaugh, a young traveling man of Pembroke, who was married on the morning of June 16th, died on the evening of June 28th.

His approaching marriage to Miss Helen Stites Pendleton had been an-nounced when Mr. Bronaugh was tak-en sick with blood poisoning from the pulling of a wisdom tooth and on the day for the wedding he was too ill to leave his bed. Miss Pendleton, true to her fiancé, went to his bedside and the marriage took place at his home and she began her tender ministrations at his bedside as a loving wife. For awhile it seemed that he would be better, but his improvement was so slow that he was taken to Nashville the first of the week, but it was de-cided that nothing could be done and he was brought back and death re-sulted on Wednesday evening.

The young widow is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Pendleton.

Mr. Bronaugh traveled for a St. Louis house and was a splendid young business man. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bronaugh and was an only son. Two younger sisters survive him. He was a member of the Baptist church. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock and the burial was in Rose-dale Cemetery.

To Honolulu and Back.

Honolulu, T. H., June 30.—Major Donald Co. of the New York Na-tional Guard, who arrived in the har-bor Wednesday from San Francisco on the liner Lurline, with his bride of two weeks, is homeward bound again on the Matsonia, without having set foot on Hawaiian soil.

The Lurline was overtaken by a wireless message for the Major, or-dering him to join his regiment at the Mexican border. The Matsonia was leaving as the Lurline entered the harbor, and the Major and Mrs. Cow were transferred by launch.

RUSSIANS REACH MOUNTAIN GATES

Win over Front of 25 Miles in East Galicia Taking Over 10,000 Prisoners.

GERMANS ON DEFENSIVE

Italians Are Still "Coming Back" and Retaking Territory.

London, June 30.—In a Russian at-tack over a front of 25 miles, extend-ing eastward from Kolomea, in east Galicia, the Austrians have been com-pelled to retire on a part of the front in the region of Kolomea and south-ward. The Austrians valiantly at-tempted to hold back the on-coming Russians but, according to Vienna, Emperor Francis Joseph's warriors finally were compelled to give way before superior forces.

FRENCH PUT DOWN VERDUN
ATTACK

The Germans again have made an effort to win French positions west of Hill 304, northwest of Verdun, after a bombardment extending from the hill to the Avocourt woods. The curtain of fire of the French and the fire of their infantry put down the attack, however. Intense bombardments continue east of Verdun around Fleury and the Vaux, Chapitre and Che-nois woods.

BRITISH BOMBARDMENT CON-TINUES.

The British along their part of the front in France and Belgium are keep-ing up their heavy bombardment of German trenches and sending out raiding parties who are reported to be doing effective work, inflicting more or less serious casualties on the Ger-mans and bringing back prisoners. The guns of the British have done much damage to German trenches at many points, according to London.

ITALIANS MOVING FORWARD.

In the Austro-Italian theater in the Trentino region the Italians are still driving back the Austrians and recap-turing important positions taken from them in the recent Austrian offensive. The Italians also have opened a big offensive against the Austrians on the eastern front, around Monte San Michele, San Martino and Vermegli-ano. Here, however, according to Vienna, the Italians are being partial-ly repulsed by the Austrian counter attacks.

IMPORTANT ACT OF LEGISLATURE

Passed by the Last Legislature, Which Affects Deeds and Mortgages.

"No deed, or deed of trust, or mortgage, conveying a legal or equit-able title to real or personal estate shall be valid against a purchaser for a valuable consideration, without notice thereof, or against creditors, until such deed or mortgage shall be ac-knowledged or proved according to law and lodged for record." (See page 435 of the 1916 Ky. Acts.)

The above is the correct wording of the law that will aid in perfecting ti-tles to real estate in future, as persons acquiring titles to property will per-fect that title by recording their deeds, etc., as soon as same is acknowledged.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For President.
WOODROW WILSON,
of New Jersey.
For Vice President.
THOS. R. MARSHALL,
of Indiana.

William R. Willcox, former postmaster of New York, and later Public Service Commissioner, has been appointed chairman of the Republican National Committee.

A deputy in the Brazilian chamber made a warlike speech Wednesday, attacking the policy of the United States in regard to Mexico. He was called down by more conservative members.

Another attempt to rescue the main body of the Shackleton Antarctic expedition may be made by the Uruguayan government, which furnished the steamer with which Sir Ernest made his recent futile attempt to reach Elephant island, where the party is marooned.

The President's ultimatum to Carranza was complied with Wednesday by the release of the 23 negro soldiers captured at Carrizal, who were started north to Juarez with their arms and accoutrements. While this delays the actual opening of hostilities, a peaceful settlement depends on Carranza's reply to the demand for an explanation of his intentions.

The pillory, slightly changed but still in effect, is to be resurrected from the old Puritan days and set up again in Kansas City, Kan. Wife beaters will find themselves the victims. Judge J. H. Brady, police judge of that city, was granted permission to erect a post on a corner of the main business district to which men convicted of beating their wives could be chained for any number of days the court affixes.

One American soldier was killed and another wounded in an engagement reported by Rear Admiral Caperton, of the United States marines, with Santo Domingo rebels. The rebel losses were not given. Rear Admiral Caperton advised the navy department that Col. Pendleton with a considerable force of marines was marching eighty miles overland from Puerto Plata to occupy Santiago and Levega, interior Dominican cities. Rebel opposition was not anticipated.

The Republican plan to offset the war spirit behind the President has been in part disclosed. Theodore Roosevelt is preparing to offer a division of approximately 12,000 men to the United States government accompanied by his application for a commission as major general in the event of war with Mexico and a call by the president for volunteers, it was learned Tuesday from authoritative sources. Elaborate plans have been made quietly to recruit the organization from picked men throughout the country, and it is believed that Col. Roosevelt has worked out every detail that would expedite the mobilization of the large fighting unit. Even the horses and mules are said to have been pledged. The division will consist, it is reported, of four brigades, instead of three as prescribed in the army regulations. In the division will be cavalry, infantry, field artillery, aeroplane detachment, engineers, signal corps and the most modern field hospital equipment. An ample number of machine guns will accom-

BLUEJAY HAS MANY FAULTS

Garrulous Bird is Charged With Long Series of Crimes, but Never Called a Coward.

The bluejay is again asserting himself with all his audacity and raucous turbulence. What a bold and independent fellow he is, asking no favors, brusque and self-sufficient, a swashbuckler, and a robber! Yet what a trim and handsome bit of feathers and how graceful in his every movement!

The bluejay is about twelve inches long, and every inch an American. His plumage is light purplish blue above and grayish below; the collar and frontlet are black and the wings and tail ultramarine barred, the outer tail feathers tipped with white.

He is called the "garrulous" jay, a designation that belongs first to the European jay, which is not at all like the American bird. Our jay breeds from Newfoundland to Florida, and often remains in the North through the winter. The jay is accused of many bad qualities, but never of cowardice. He is as full of mischief as the proverbial magpie, he robs the farmer's corn crib, he murders young birds in the nest, he sucks the eggs of other birds. He has considerable imitative power, and by imitating the cry of a hawk will frighten other birds and send them to cover. He is classed in the crow family, and bears the scientific name of Cyanocitta cristata. The first name is Greek for bluejay and cristata Latin for crested.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR A REST

Modern Business Man Settles Up a Few Matters Before He Goes Into Retirement.

The great merchant prince joyfully entered his private office and summoned his chief adviser.

"Notify our directors that if they desire to call another meeting it will have to be done within the next twelve hours."

"Very good, sir."

"Take down a memo, to distribute a couple of thousand dollars to our local peace societies, our missionary movements and any other charitable organizations which may occur to you."

"It is done."

"Is there anything important in the mail for us to discuss?"

"I think not, sir."

"You might notify the interstate commerce commission that in case they wish to confer with me they can communicate with my telephone."

"Very well, sir."

"While you are about it, reduce all salaries ten per cent. Issue an announcement that owing to the unpatriotic attitude of the new administration there will be a—pay in the near future, or words to that effect."

"I will attend to it at once, sir."

"And now can you think of anything else that it will be necessary to discuss with me?"

"Nothing occurs to me, sir. May I ask you where you are going?"

The great merchant prince got up, slammed the lid of his desk, and lighting his favorite cigar, moved toward the Black Maria that stood in front of the office.

"I am merely going to serve my term in jail and get a much-needed rest. In case anyone should call tell them I will be back in about a year."

INTELLIGENT GIRL

"Why do you always wear gloves when you are playing cards?"

"Because Fred told me I must never show my hand."

APPROPRIATE NAMES.

A young Liverpool citizen calls his sweetheart Revenge, because she is sweet; and a young married man residing in Birmingham calls his mother-in-law Delay, because she is dangerous; and a Bradford man calls his wife Fact, because she is a stubborn thing; and a fourth wife of an attorney calls him Necessity, because he knows no law; and a Manchester man calls his wife Sluggard, because she gets mad and goes to her aunt every time he stays out at the lodge; and a Middlesborough man calls his wife Frailty, because Shakespeare says, "Frailty, thy name is woman"; and a certain insurance agent calls his wife Mary Jane, because that is her name; and a Glasgow man calls his wife Darling, because that isn't her name—she's a regular vixen; and a Newcastle man calls his wife Enough, because she is as good as a feast.

WARS THAT CREATED WORDS

"Forlorn Hope" is a Military Phrase That Was Borrowed From the Dutch.

"Kultur" is a word which has found its way into the English language. Everybody seems to know that there is a difference between "culture" and "kultur"—and a difference not merely of spelling.

Our sixteenth-century war with Spain was responsible for several new words being added to the language. "Embargo" and "contraband" are two of them, while to our campaigns in the low countries we are indebted for such words as "freebooter," "furlough," "cashier," "leagues," "drill," "onslaught," "sconce" and "domineer."

"Forlorn hope" is a military phrase borrowed from the Dutch "verloren hoop," hoop meaning troop; and although "comrade" is a Spanish word, it came to us through the soldiers who fought in the low countries.

The word "khaki" was not used in the way it is today until the Boer war. The term "die-hards" came from the battle of Albuera in 1811, when Colonel Inglis, addressing his men, cried, "Die hard, my lads; die hard!"

The term "free lance," now meaning a literary man who is in no one's employ, is a relic of the Crusades, when companies of knights roved from place to place, offering their services to anyone who would pay for them.—Answers, London.

NOT SO BAD.

Corporal—This is a terrible business.

Sergeant—Oh, I don't know. I've lived with my wife's relatives for the last four years.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

JUST SO.

Biggs—Law is certainly a dry study.

Diggs—Yes; but a pretty woman's tears frequently wash away all doubts in the minds of the jury.

RIGHTS OF MAN.

"Every man," said the moralizer, "has a right to do as he pleases."

"He has," rejoined the demoralizer, "in case he pleases to do right."

HIS DRAWBACK.

"Why did you refuse to give that young man employment?"

"Well, he hadn't any refining prison influences in his past life."

AN EXPERT'S OPINION.

"Do you drive an automobile?"

"No," replied Mr. Chuggins, "you must never drive an automobile. You've got to coax it."

THE REASON.

"Her enemies regard Russia as a foul nation."

"Well, I guess she would like to be a Turkey gobbler."

EVOLUTION OF ORANGE.

The orange was originally a pear-shaped fruit about the size of the common wild cherry. Its evolution is believed by naturalists to be due to 1,200 years of cultivation.

SMALL MATTER TO ARRANGE

Eastern Princess Proved Possession of Long Head in the Disposition of Her Suitors.

An official of the army aviation service said at a dinner in Washington:

"An aviator, especially a military aviator, must be very long-headed. In fact, he must calculate his chances as far ahead as the beautiful princess of the eastern tale.

"A beautiful princess caused it to be announced that on a certain day she would receive suitors for her hand.

"Accordingly some hundreds of kings and princes presented themselves, but she dismissed them one and all till it came to the turn of an immensely wealthy octogenarian rajah. Him she smiled on very affably, and he said:

"Ah, princess, I could die for you!"

"Graciously, then, she bade the old fellow take his place among the favored courtiers behind her throne, and the procession of suitors began again. All were, as before, rejected. Finally, though, a young prince, as handsome as the day, appeared, but he had, unfortunately, no money. However, the princess smiled on him, and he said:

"Ah, princess, I could live for you!"

"She bade him join in his turn the favored courtiers behind her throne, and she said in a low voice, as he knelt and kissed her hand:

"You'll live for me, will you?"

Well and good. Our nuptials will be celebrated, then, just as soon as the octogenarian millionaire with the dark complexion over there has died for me."

BRAVERY ENOUGH

Ethel—But you must show your true love for me by some act of bravery.

Edward—Well, I'm sure I ate every bit of that Welsh rarebit you cooked last night.

ART OF BOMB DROPPING.

Aerial bomb dropping is now one of the sciences of war, and a considerable portion of time in the training of a pilot is spent in acquiring this art.

The young pilot is taught always to have the wind at his back and the bows of his craft pointing directly at the object to be bombed. For this purpose he is provided with a formula minutely worked out which allows for both the speed of the ship and for the direction of the prevailing wind—two factors which influence accuracy in bomb-dropping to a very great extent.

Skill in aiming is obtained by floating large portions of timber—constructed to resemble miniature warships—upon the surface of a lake and by approaching them at varying degrees of speed, altitude and direction of wind.

HAD ENOUGH.

"Having satisfied you, sir," went on the book agent, "that you are in constant need of our superb dictionary, permit me to show you also its greatly enlarged appendix, which no family should be without."

"Nothing doing!" gasped the prospective victim. "It's cost me $500 to have one of those things cut out and I want no more."—Browning's Magazine.

LACK OF PREPAREDNESS.

"Pop, what is free speech?" "Free speech, my son, is merely saying what we please to fellows we know we can lick."—Judge.

IT ALL DEPENDED.

Hubby—Have you much shopping to do today?

Wifey—I don't know, dear. How much money have you got with you?

Madisonville Boys Off.

Madisonville, Ky., June 30.—Company E, Third regiment of national guards, with 135 men and officers left here on a special train for mobilization headquarters at Fort Thomas. The national guards of Providence and Earlington joined the local company here, and more than 250 men from Hopkins county comprised the two companies of Earlington and Madisonville.

The medical corps with the hospital corps of the Third regiment, which includes twenty-eight men, accompanied the troops. Dr. J. D. Sory of this city is first lieutenant and Dr. W. K. Nisbet of Earlington is captain.

A large crowd was at the station to bid the boys farewell and cheered them as the train pulled out. Lieut. Utley and two privates were left at home to enlist more recruits. The local company will be recruited up to 150 men within the next few days, it is believed.

Sunday being nearest our national birthday, the services will be of a patriotic nature. The pastor will preach in the morning on "The Divine Hand of Our Country." Some mention will be made to the Mexican situation. Ten members of this church are in Company D. They and their families will be remembered in prayer. In the evening the pastor will preach on "A National Theme."

Boyd-Bearden.

James B. Bearden and Miss Lillian Boyd, both residents of Hopkinsville, were married Thursday evening at the Christian church residence, Rev. J. N. Jessup officiating. A few intimate friends were present. Mr. Bearden is traveling for a Cleveland, O., house, with headquarters in Hopkinsville. The young people will make their home in this city.

WOMAN AVOIDS OPERATION

Medicine Which Made Surgeon's Work Unnecessary.

Astoria, N. Y. — "For two years I was feeling ill and took all kinds of tonics. I was getting worse every day. I had chills, my head would ache, I was always tired. I could not walk straight because of the pain in my back and I had pains in my stomach. I went to a doctor and he said I must go under an operation, but I did not go. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told my husband about it. I said 'I know nothing will help me but I will try this.' I found myself improving from the very first bottle, and in two weeks time I was able to sit down and eat a hearty breakfast with my husband, which I had not done for two years. I am now in the best of health and did not have the operation." — Mrs. JOHN A. KOENIG, 502 Flushing Avenue, Astoria, N. Y.

Every one dreads the surgeon's knife and the operating table. Sometimes nothing else will do; but many times doctors say they are necessary when they are not. Letter after letter comes to the Pinkham Laboratory, telling how operations were advised and were not performed; or, if performed, did no good, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used and good health followed.

If you want advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

VICTIM OF TUBERCULOSIS

Wife of Mr. David Bourland Passes Away After Long Illness.

Mrs. Ora Bourland, wife of Mr. David Bourland, died yesterday morning at 8 o'clock at her home in Crofton. She was a victim of tuberculosis, from which she had been a sufferer for two years, but she was confined to her bed only two weeks. The deceased is survived by her husband and one child. She was a daughter of the late John M. Dulin and a niece of Mrs. L. R. West, Mr. M. V. Dulin and Mrs. Mary Robinson, all of this city. Mrs. Bourland was 42 years old and a member of the Christian church. She was a lady greatly beloved by a host of friends. The interment will take place in the J. M. Clark burying ground, three miles east of Crofton, today.

LIEUT. CLARK LEAVES

Taking With Him a Squad of Six Men.

Lieut. Alvan H. Clark left for Ft. Thomas yesterday afternoon with six men, three members left behind and three new recruits. The old men were Jack Koon, Pete Marquess and Bradley Boyd. The recruits were Arthur Helm, Cerulean, enlisted yesterday and Fred Hill, of Ga., and Jas. B. Hern, enlisted the day before.

60,000 Called Out.

New York, June 30.—Twenty thousand national guardsmen are now on their way to the Mexican border from the department of the east and 40,000 others are encamped awaiting orders. Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, U. S. A., said that many of the troops at concentration camps cannot be moved for the present because they are either unprepared or unequipped.

TWO NEW APPOINTMENTS.

It is understood that Sam Byars, of Todd county, is to succeed Will J. Chiles as Steward at the Western State Hospital on August 1. It is also understood that Dr. W. W. Durham, of this county, is to succeed Dr. Robinson as assistant physician.

Middle Age.

There comes a clear day when one realizes that clothes are to keep the weather off you, that food is to give you health, that home is shelter and inspiration; that, aside from being clean and inoffensive, one's personal appearance does not signify very much; that the main thing in life is to be going along toward the goal of your ideals. That isn't getting old, it's getting sense. From then on Time is not master, but friend.—Collier's.

Her Castle.

Elsie was naughty, and her mother was driven to box her ears soundly in the very presence of a couple of visiting aunts. Through her tears she sobbed, "And this is the sort of a thing one must endure in one's own house."

Federal Inquiry or Railroad Strike?

Faced by demands from the conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen that would impose on the country an additional burden in transportation costs of $100,000,000 a year, the railroads propose that this wage problem be settled by reference to an impartial Federal tribunal.

With these employees, whose efficient service is acknowledged, the railroads have no differences that could not be considered fairly and decided justly by such a public body.

Railroads Urge Public Inquiry and Arbitration

The formal proposal of the railroads to the employees for the settlement of the controversy is as follows:

"Our conferences have demonstrated that we cannot harmonize our differences of opinion and that eventually the matters in controversy must be passed upon by other and disinterested agencies. Therefore, we propose that your proposals and the proposition of the railroads be disposed of by one or the other of the following methods:

1. Preferably by submission to the Interstate Commerce Commission, the only tribunal which, by reason of its accumulated information bearing on railway conditions and its control of the revenue of the railroads, is in a position to consider and protect the rights and equities of all the interests affected, and to provide additional revenue necessary to meet the added cost of operation in case your proposals are found by the Commission to be just and reasonable; or, in the event the Interstate Commerce Commission cannot, under existing laws, act in the premises, that we jointly request Congress to take such action as may be necessary to enable the Commission to consider and promptly dispose of the questions involved; or
2. By arbitration in accordance with the provisions of the Federal law" (The Newlands Act).

Leaders Refuse Offer and Take Strike Vote

Leaders of the train service brotherhoods, at the joint conference held in New York, June 1-15, refused the offer of the railroads to submit the issue to arbitration or Federal review, and the employees are now voting on the question whether authority shall be given these leaders to declare a nation-wide strike.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is proposed by the railroads as the public body to which this issue ought to be referred for these reasons:

No other body with such an intimate knowledge of railroad conditions has such an unquestioned position in the public confidence.

The rates the railroads may charge the public for transportation are now largely fixed by this Government board.

Out of every dollar received by the railroads from the public nearly one-half is paid directly to the employees as wages; and the money to pay increased wages can come from no other source than the rates paid by the public.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, with its control over rates, is in a position to make a complete investigation and render such decision as would protect the interests of the railroad employees, the owners of the railroads, and the public.

A Question For the Public to Decide

The railroads feel that they have no right to grant a wage preferment of $100,000,000 a year to these employees, now highly paid and constituting only one-fifth of all the employees, without a clear mandate from a public tribunal that shall determine the merits of the case after a review of all the facts.

The single issue before the country is whether this controversy is to be settled by an impartial Government inquiry or by industrial warfare.

MEN IN MIND IN HOPKINSVILLE

Prominent Factors in The Busy Life of the Pearl City.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH 94

Hopkinsville's Oldest Native Born Business Man, Good For Many Years More.

C. W. DUCKER.

There are now only four business men in Hopkinsville still in business who were here when the Kentuckian was established Jan. 1, 1879.

These are E. L. Foulks, C. W. Ducker, M. C. Forbes and R. M. Anderson. Of this quartette only one is a native of the city, the subject of this sketch. Charles W. Ducker, a son of John J. Ducker, was born Oct. 25, 1849, on a portion of the square upon which Hotel Latham now stands, in a cottage fronting on Sixth street. Here the first few years of his life were spent, until 1853 when Mr. J. J. Ducker with his family moved to Pulaski, Tenn., where he died in 1865. Mrs. Ducker returned to Hopkinsville the same year, her son at that time being 16 years of age. The family located at the corner of Ninth and Liberty streets, where Mr. Ducker made his home for 45 years, until the lot was sold to the United States for the new government building which now stands upon it.

Mr. Ducker's first employment was as clerk in a grocery store, of which La Rue Thomas was one of the proprietors. Mr. Thomas afterwards became one of the most noted Masons in Kentucky. In 1869 he gave up this job and went into the carriage factory of Poindexter & Baker, where he learned the trade of a carriage painter. In those days all carriages and buggies were made by hand and this business was a leading industry of the city. In seven years Mr. Ducker had mastered his trade and forming a partnership with two other young men who conducted different branches of the business, he became a partner in the firm of Cross, Ducker & Dryer, who opened a carriage shop near the stand Mr. Ducker still occupies on Virginia street. In 1884 he bought out his partners and has since conducted the business alone for 32 years and has been a carriage maker altogether for 47 years. Business conditions have of course changed and all vehicles are now shipped into the city from factories, but many of them are so poorly made that there is much to be done to keep them in order. Mr. Ducker now conducts a general repair shop for vehicles and has built up a profitable business for his declining years. He still gives his personal attention to his business and is not yet ready to be classed as an "old man." He merely made an early start as a business man.

Mr. Ducker was left a widower some years ago and his family consists of four sons. C. W. Ducker, Jr., is the only one in Hopkinsville. He is engineer for the Forbes Manufacturing Co. James A. and Frank both live in Louisville, the first with the L. & N. Railroad and the second with the Standard Oil Co. The youngest, Lakin, has just graduated in law and is now in the office of the Attorney General of Virginia at Richmond. All of them are fine young men, sons of whom any father might justly be proud.

Mr. Ducker is a lifelong member of the Methodist church and is a steward and trustee. He has been a Knight of Pythias for 36 years and became a Past Chancellor many years ago. He has never held any official position excepting to serve as a member of the last city council in 1914 and 1915. Born in the city, he has been a loyal and devoted friend of Hopkinsville and no citizen takes a greater pride in its growth and prosperity.

JULY 14TH.

Competitive Examination For Free Scholarship to State University.

Supt. L. E. Foster has fixed Friday, July 14th, as the day on which the examination will be given those who desire appointments to the State University, Lexington, Ky. The examination will be held in the office of the County Supt., beginning at 8 o'clock on the following subject: English, German, Latin, American History and Civics, Algebra and Plane Geometry.

The two pupils making the highest marks will be given the appointments, provided they have sufficient credits to enter the Freshman class at the University.

Those desiring to take this examination should leave their names at the office of the County Supt.

The following section of law gives information as to who is eligible, etc:

"The selection of the beneficiaries shall be made by the Supt. of common schools in their respective counties, upon competitive examination, upon subjects prepared by the faculty of the University and transmitted to said Supt. before the first of July of each year. Said competitive examination shall be open to all persons between the ages of fourteen and twenty-four years. Preference shall be given, other things being equal, to those who have passed with credit through the public school, persons of energy and industry, whose means are small, to aid whom in obtaining a good education, this provision is intended. Said competitive examination shall be held, and the successful competitor shall be appointed between the first day of June and the first day of August of each year. It shall be the duty of the County Supt. to make benefits of this provision to each common school district under his superintendency, with the time and place, when and where each competitive examination shall be held. He shall, for this purpose, appoint a board of examiners, whose duty it shall be to conduct the examination."

A fee of one dollar will be charged. This money will go to the examiners for conducting the examination and grading the papers.

PORCH PARTY.

Miss Doris Claggett gave a Porch Party Friday morning from 9 to 12, in honor of a former class-mate, Miss Mary Keegan, now of Louisville. Delightful refreshments were served. Days passed at High School and future days in College were freely discussed by the following young ladies: Misses Mary Keegan, Mary Campbell, Mary Belle Bible, Louise Breahitt, Grace Richards, Ruth Harris, Elizabeth Cayce, Frances Garnett, May Oldham and Doris Claggett.

It is estimated that the average manure pile will breed 900,000 flies per ton?

To Mend China.

Put the pieces together carefully, tie firmly and boil in sweet milk for half an hour. China mended in this way will last for years. When washing fine chinaware, place two Turkish towels, one crossing the other, in the dishpan before filling it with hot water. Put only a dish or two in the pan at a time. Chinaware will not be likely to get nicked if this plan is followed.

Wanted a Home Supply.

"Papa," said little Elsie, "I want us to get a cow and keep it in the back yard." "Why, my dear, I thought you were afraid of cows?" "That don't matter, because it's 'conomy!'" declared the small efficiency expert. "Then we can have our milk and beefsteak all the time."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

BAD FEED FOR THE DRY COW

Advisability of Feeding Animal Well Is Not Usually Recognized—Give Her a Vacation.

(By R. W. LATTI, New Mexico State College.)

"We'll feed this spoiled hay to the dry cows." This statement shows a common attitude, but a wrong one. True, the dry cow can utilize to advantage, as part of her ration, some off-grade hay, but the advisability of feeding her well is not usually recognized. A cow will do better in milk production for twelve months if she has six weeks to two months' "vacation on full pay." While she is dry she is nourishing her calf and getting her system into condition to give a large flow of milk when she freshens. While drying off the cow, she may be given the starvation treatment—no grain and only a poor grade of dry roughage, but as soon as she is dry she should be well fed again. The good dairy cow cannot be made too fat, when dry. All the fat stored up in her body will be milked off again, increasing the yield of milk, and also, it has been demonstrated, her milk will test higher throughout the following lactation period than if she freshens in poor flesh.

Ten days to two weeks before calving, the feed should be reduced, and light, loose feeds of choice quality should be fed. Bran, ground oats and linseed oilmeal are especially valuable at this time. A bran mash fed as a warm gruel is excellent to cool out the cow's system. It is important to have the bowels in a laxative condition at calving time. The cow should get plenty of exercise, and water not too cold. After calving she should not be crowded with feed, two weeks should pass before she is on full feed. If cared for in this way the calf will be strong and healthy, and the cow will be ready to do a big year's work.

TURN SEPARATORS TOO SLOW

Large Majority of Operators Lose From Seven to Twelve Pounds of Butter From Each Cow.

Extensive investigations conducted by Purdue experiment station and others show that 19 out of 20 separator operators turn their machines too slow and that every time they do they lost from 7 to 12 pounds of butter per cow per year. This serious loss many times spells the difference between success and failure in dairying.

Every kind of separator, to do efficient work, that is get the greatest percentage of cream from the milk, must be operated carefully in accordance with the instructions supplied by the manufacturer.

STANCHION IS SELF-CLOSING

Device Works Automatically When Beast Puts Its Head Through—
How It Is Operated.

A practical stanchion that will close automatically by the action of the beast when placing its head through the bars is shown in the sketch. The stanchion is made in the ordinary manner except that it is equipped with the self-closing parts. When turning the stock out the bar A must be thrown to one side and to set the stanchion after this is done, it is only necessary to place the piece B as shown, so that the coil spring C will hold it in position. When the beast enters, its movement of the head downward trips the piece B, the spring locks the bar A under the loop D, and the stanchion is securely closed.—Popular Mechanics.

Automatic Closing Stanchion.

BUYING NEW COWS FOR DAIRY

Those From Farmers Who Practice Rational Methods of Feeding Are Always Preferable.

In buying new cows for the dairy one should buy from farmers who practice rational methods of feeding, preferably from those who do not feed calves in stanchions. The feed should not consist of too much grain and rich concentrates.

Many cows have been fed so much grain that they have lost their capacity for handling home-grown roughage.

Such cows are no longer profitable dairy producers and should be avoided when buying new cows for the dairy.

Don't Worry—Eat.

Memphs, Tenn.—Mrs. Emma D. Looney, of this place, says: "I suffered misery for nearly eight years, but since taking Cardui, I am much stronger, and I haven't missed a single meal. I hardly know how to express my gratitude." Don't worry about your symptoms—Cardui doesn't treat them. What you need is strength. Cardui helps you to get it. Take Cardui, because other tonics and medicines do not contain its peculiar and successful ingredients, imported especially for its manufacture. Half a century of success, has stamped Cardui with the seal of public approval. During this time, Cardui has benefited a million women. Why not you? Try it today.—Advertisement.

The Two Urchins.

A congressman in an address in Providence on preparedness said:
"Before the looming danger of invasion the pacifist and the preparedness chap are, respectively, like Willie and Johnny. Willie and Johnny had been very naughty and were sent to bed by their mother. As they lay side by side footsteps were heard—it was now evening—and the two culprits realized that their father was mounting the stairs. They turned pale. 'I'm goin' to fold my hands as if I'd been prayin', said Pacifist Willie,
'and then I'll pretend to be asleep when he comes in.' But Preparedness Johnny was already bustling swiftly about the room. 'I'm goin'
to put on my pants,' he said, 'and line
'em with a newspaper.'"

Eleanor Was Fussy.

Little Eleanor, aged six, was sitting at the supper table. Her mother dished her out some corn, whereupon Eleanor drew her plate aside. When her mother asked her what the trouble was she remarked, "How do you expect me to eat the corn when you all had it on your feet?"

WATER WORK-HORSES OFTEN

Quite Profitable and Humane to Provide Means of Giving Water
Throughout the Day.

Some farmers find it quite profitable, and certainly quite humane, to give their horses a bucket of water several times during the long mornings and afternoons of the summer. For this purpose they arrange a barrel on a small sled, and each morning take it with them to the field.

During the long mornings and afternoons it will be found to be profitable to give the teams a bucket of water.

The horses do not drink much at a time, but they do relish it, and it stimulates them and in no small manner averts the danger of overheating.
Users of horses in cities know the value of watering them often, and they do not pass a drinking place without offering their horses water. These teams are generally worked under high pressure and under distressing conditions, yet with fair treatment the horses stand up well and do a great volume of work. In the dirt and heat of the great cities it is safe to assume that if the practice of watering only three times a day were observed, much less work could be done and many horses would fall victims to heat and overwork.

RIGHT MANAGEMENT OF HOGS

Protection From Sun, Pure Water and Succulent Grazing, Are Three Important Factors.

Sun shades, pure water and succulent grazing are three very important factors in the summer management of swine. Hogs suffer more from heat than any other class of animals. When they were removed from their native shaded haunts, and confined in pens and open yards, exposed to the hot rays of the sun, and by the change transformed from lank, large-lunged animals into modern fat-backs, they were made peculiarly susceptible to the sizzling rays of the summer sun.

Hogs that are confined in open yards, where they are exposed to the hot sun do well to keep alive, even though they are consuming sufficient feed to make two pounds of pork a day. Sunshades mean comfort, and Purebred Poland-China Sow.

comfort brings economy in the use of feed, rapid gains in flesh, and increased profits at the season's end.

Hogs do not perspire. Other animals are provided with pores to carry off excretions and remove heat from the body, but not so with the hog. A few large pores on the legs provide the only means of carrying off excretions, while the thick layers of fat check the radiation of the heat from the body.
Not only is this so, but hogs are fed more heat-producing food than other farm animals, and in the operation of converting this feed into meat there is a great amount of heat which can not readily escape.

COW'S MILK FOR THE LAMBS

Ordinary Baby Bottle and Nipple Will Be Found Satisfactory in Raising Orphans.

If properly handled, the orphan
lamb or the lamb which its mother refuses to own can be raised successfully on cow's milk. Sheep milk is nearly twice as rich in fat as cow's milk, which for the lamb should therefore be enriched by the addition of pure cream. Since the lamb usually nurses its mother at least once each hour it should be fed on cow's milk at the same intervals, especially for the first ten days or two weeks, after which the intervals may be gradually lengthened.

While the lamb is very young it should not be given more than two ounces of milk at a feeding, as this is all he would take from his mother.
Use an ordinary baby bottle and nipple. When the lamb is ten days or two weeks of age it will commence to eat a little, and from this time on should gradually be encouraged to procure most of its nourishment from grain, roots, etc.

TREATMENT FOR MALE LAMBS

They Should Be Castrated When Very Young, as the Danger Then
Is Not Very Great.

When male lambs are not sold promptly, it is important that they be castrated. They will sell better, make better growth, and give less trouble.
They should be castrated early, as the danger is then very slight. The main point in castration is to avoid contamination. Hands and instruments should be kept cleaned with a good antiseptic, the wound should be washed, and then the flock should be put in a clean, grassy lot or field.
